Everybody looks good at this dimly lit, wood-paneled spot, which quickly turned from a neighborhood favorite into a dining destination. If you think you know farm-to-table you've never had husband-and-wife chefs Evan and Sarah Rich's take on the genre, where chicken skin lands on brandade, and dessert means plush, satisfying tarts and cakes.

Look For

Sardine potato chips with horseradish crème fraîche; pastas; sourdough bread pudding with pomelo curd and pistachio

We Love

That loaves of the restaurant's incredible bread can be ordered to take home.
